

GOVERNMENT SEIZES ALL OF THE PROPERTY OF GROVER BERGDOLL

Order for This Step Was Issued by President
Harding Friday—The Estate is Estimated to be Worth Nearly One Million Dollars
—The Government Takes it All Over

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 27.—All the property of Grover C. Bergdoll, draft evader now in Germany, was seized here today by Colonel Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian, by order of President Harding. With it was seized the property of his mother, Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll and of brother, Edwin Bergdoll, now serving a sentence in the army disciplinary barracks at Leavenworth, Kansas, as a draft evader.

This action was taken under a new ruling which permits the government to take over the property of those who have foresworn allegiance. Bergdoll, having announced himself as a German citizen made himself liable under this law.

Mrs. Bergdoll was given five days to turn over an account of all of Grover's property in this country, both real and personal. If this is done, the remainder of the Bergdoll property will be returned to her. If not the estate will remain in the hands of government officials and she will be liable to imprisonment for contempt.

The value of the seized estate owned by Grover Bergdoll is estimated at $836,226. Summarized, it was explained by government officials the seizure means:

All of Bergdoll's realty, mortgages and bank accounts, including his share in the Bergdoll brewery, will be administered by the government, instead of by his mother, who has held the property under power of attorney.

All of his funds on deposit in banks are to be administered by the government. Bergdoll is cut off from his financial resources in this country. If his mother tries to communicate with him in any way, she will make herself liable to a jail sentence. If he wants his property he must return to the United States and file a claim. If he does that, he must go to prison and serve his term.

Every cent of expense connected with the seizure of the estate will come out of Bergdoll's pocket.

Mrs. Bergdoll and her 88 year old mother must vacate "Castle Bergdoll," Grover's home here, from which he escaped.

Under the war trade board license, as amended last Monday, Grover Bergdoll is classed as an alien enemy, which deprives him of any protest or claim as an American citizen.

OPPOSITION IN HOUSE TO BORAH NAVAL AMENDMENT

Critics Contend That it Should Await Oppor-
tune Time

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Opposition developed in the house today to the Borah disarmament amendment to the naval appropriation bill authorizing and requesting the president to call a conference of Great Britain, Japan and the United States to reach an agreement on reduction of naval forces. Critics of the proposal either contended it was not broad enough or that its adoption should await a "more opportune time."

After a conference with president Harding, Representative Mondell, the Republican leader, said he thought reduction of naval strength should be accompanied by partial disarmament on land. An international conference should approach the question with this end in view, he added. Representative Britten, Illinois, ranking Republican on the house naval committee, declared today he was opposed to the Borah amendment. The navy's 1916 building program should be completed, he said, adding that if nations then agreed to disarm it should be with the understanding that they would do so permanently.

ROTARIANS MADE TRIP TO MEREDOSIA CLUB HOUSE

Members of the Rotary club made an expedition to the club house at Meredosia Bay last Friday afternoon. This trip took the place of the regular weekly luncheon and an excellent supper was served in the club house at 6:30 o'clock by Mr. Hedrick of Meredosia. There was no formal program, although there were two excellent readings by Miss Swift of Illinois college and several selections by a quartet which the company greatly enjoyed. The members of the quartet were Dr. C. B. Magill, Maurice Peckham, Ben Denny and James Guyette.

The trip was planned especially for the purpose of having Rotarians inspect the completed club house, which is for the use of organized groups of boys and girls. Most of the visitors had not before seen the completed building and they were enthusiastic about its spaciousness and the conveniences afforded for camp life.

OPEN HEARINGS ARE CONCLUDED BY COMMITTEE

Progress Being Made on Permanent Tariff Revision

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Distinct progress was made in congress today in the matter of tax and tariff legislation. The senate finance committee concluded open hearings on tax revision, completing the first stage of the next tax bill while the house ways and means committee began a final redraft of the permanent tariff bill preparatory to its introduction in the house. Chairman Fordney said he hoped to have the tariff measure in the house by June 10.

The senate finance committee had under consideration first the Smoot sales tax bill but although early sentiment appeared to favor it, leaders said today it would probably be opposed in both branches. The excess profits tax it was said, probably will be repealed as suggested by Secretary Mellon.

Although the senate committee is expected to recommend its removal, several senators said its defense today by Professor Edwin R. Seligman of Columbia University had deeply impressed them.

Mr. Seligman made a plea for its retention as against adoption of a sales tax. The former, he contended, was a tax on surplus and one of the few kinds of taxes which, in normal times, must be absorbed by manufacturers and not passed on.

Competition had no effect on the sales tax, he said, adding that it would inevitably be shifted on to the consumer.

BELFAST, May 27.—The unofficial count of the votes cast in Tuesday's elections in the six northern counties of Antrim, Armagh, Down, Fermanagh, Londonderry and Tyrone, shows that the Unionists received 341,289 votes, the Sinn Feiners 103,516, the Nationalists 60,762 and the Independent Laborites 4,001. There is to be added to the Unionist vote 4,000 university voters whose ballots will be counted on Saturday.

These figures would indicate that the Nationalist-Sinn Fein combination should, in view of the proportion of their supporters, have about 20 members in the new parliament to the Unionists 32, although it is considered probable the Unionist representation may reach 41. The fact that Joseph Devlin, the Nationalist leader, must resign either his seat for West Belfast or Antrim possibly will add to the Unionist count.

Two surprises of the voting were the big poll of Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein organization in Tyrone and Fermanagh where he received more than 10,000 votes above the first Unionist and the majority of more than 12,000 votes which Sir James Craig had over Eamonn de Valera.

Harding to Consult Country's Financiers

WASHINGTON, May 27.—A group of bankers and financiers from every part of the country are to be consulted by President Harding before he concludes the series of financial conferences begun Wednesday night at a white house dinner when the eastern banking interests were chiefly represented. It is probable that a group of financial leaders from the middlewest will be the next to be summoned.

It was indicated in administration circles that so far as sentiment has been canvassed the financial men are unanimously in believing the federal reserve board holds the key to a proper readjustment of general financial conditions.

Those consulted are understood to have told the president the board could go a long way towards restoration of normal conditions by exerting its influence to keep loans at a reasonable rate and on a sound basis.

Removal of restrictive measures placed by the board on credit extension, under the federal reserve act was said to have been advocated by the bankers as a means of solving the problem facing the farmers.

Progressive rediscount rates in the St. Louis and Kansas City district it was contended work a hardship on the agricultural interests because banks which are charged more for money merely pass the increased cost along to the borrowers.

Legislation to permit longer credits to the farmers thru extension of the limits fixed by the reserve act on agricultural papers eligible for rediscount at reserve banks was said to have been favored.

The opinion was expressed that restriction of eligible agricultural paper to six months was too early a maturity in the case of many farmers. Extension of the mature limits, it was maintained, would enable the member banks to extend correspondingly long terms to the farmer.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., May 27.—Testimony purporting to show efforts by officials and employees of the defunct Moore Motor Vehicle company, formerly of Alton, Ill., to make the project a success, was given by witnesses today at the trial of six officials of the concern charged with using the mails to defraud.

George L. Moore, president and E. K. Gallagher, another official, worked into the early morning on numerous occasions in an effort to consummate plans for marketing automobiles manufactured by the company. C. J. Murray, formerly employed by the Moore company as an expert accountant, testified.

Difficulty of obtaining materials was the chief problem, he said. How he had made trips from Danville to other cities in efforts to get automobile parts was told by Howard O'Toole, former salesman. Scarcity of steel and poor railroad transportation he declared had cut down the production of the factory.

Sales methods, production statistics, and statements as to the character of the defendants were touched on in other testimony.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The resolution of Senator Johnson, Republican, California, for senate investigation of the West Virginia-Kentucky mining disorders was reported favorably today by a senate committee and placed in position for senate action next week.

The Johnson resolution now goes to the calendar with its adoption soon after the senate reconvenes next week regarded as assured. The expenditures committee also reported favorably the resolution of Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts for a general investigation of conditions of former service men, including hospitalization, delay in war risk payments and other affairs.

Another resolution of investigation reported favorably by the same committee was that of Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, providing for a general agriculture survey by a joint congressional committee.

CHICAGO, May 27.—The estate of the late Marshall Field was assessed another $70,923.04 today by Judge Sullivan for attorney's fees in connection with the suits brought to test the Field will. Fees previously allowed totaled $770,000.

The latest distribution is to pay the expense of carrying the suit of Peggy Marsh to the supreme court in behalf of her son. Miss Marsh claimed a share in the Field millions for her boy, the son of the late Henry Field. The supreme court sustained the lower court in denying her claim.

LABOR UNIONS ARE RAISING DEFENSE FUND

Said to be Raising a Fund of $100,000
by Assessment

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 27.—A $100,000 defense fund for the Union Labor leaders who have been indicted for alleged extortion is being raised by assessment of members of Chicago building trades unions according to information given out today by State's Attorney Gorman. Meanwhile the Daily Joint legislative commission heard witnesses tell of graft payments of approximately $100,000 on a hotel and a downtown office building.

Tracy Drake, hotel owner, testified that business agents of the carpenters' union demanded $16,000 and representatives of the electrical union $3,000 to permit work to proceed on his hotel. The demand came, he said, when electric lamps on which one non-union man had worked were installed and the union representatives decided the hotel would have to be "fined."

Graft Payments of $50,000.
Graft payments of $50,000 were made on the office building according to testimony. Of the total amount $40,000 was pocketed by the contractors and the rest given to a union business agent. It was declared. The agent had demanded $35,000 to permit the building to be completed according to witnesses.

Charges that "profitfeeling" rates fixed by liability insurance companies added $1 a day to building costs for every structural iron worker employed were made by representatives of bridge and structural iron workers' union No. 1.

Members of the commission urged the union men to send a committee to Springfield to urge the passage of a bill regulating insurance rates.

SENATE TAKES FINAL ACTION ON SECTIONS IN NAVAL MEASURE

The Proposition for a Naval Base at Alameda is Killed—Senate Also Rejects the Walsh Amendment to Send Representatives to Disarmament Conference of the League

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Final action on disarmament questions and against beginning a new Pacific coast naval base was taken today by the senate but other amendments to the $495,000,000 naval appropriation bill were not disposed of when adjournment was taken until next Tuesday.

Disarmament proposals caused a brisk clash today over amendments of Senators Pomerene, Ohio, and Walsh, Montana, Democrats.

With the Borah amendment requesting the president to call a three power conference to discuss disarmament in the bill, Senator Pomerene offered a supplementary amendment. It would have authorized the president to suspend naval construction.

A livelier tilt developed on Senator Walsh's amendment which would have requested the president to send American representatives to sit with the disarmament commission of the league of nations, "in a consulting capacity."

This amendment was beaten, 42 to 22 after it was denounced by Senator Lodge as "side door" entrance of America into the league. The roll call was on party lines except that three Democrats voted with Republican opponents.

No Naval Base at Alameda.
The proposal for a new naval base at Alameda, Cal., was lost finally when Senator Ball, Republican, Delaware, a supporter, announced that no further attempt would be made to put it over. His announcement came after Senator King, Democrat, Utah, had served notice that opponents would delay passage of the naval budget indefinitely should the Alameda amendment again be presented.

The senate also clashed over the recent dismissal of 110 midshipmen from the naval academy at Annapolis and adopted an amendment providing for reappointment of the midshipmen who "flunked" to a lower class.

Another amendment adopted called for a report by the navy department as to whether any navy yards or stations should be abandoned.

Amendment Causes Clash.
The liveliest clash was over the Walsh amendment for appointment of American representatives to the disarmament commission. Its author contended it followed the administration policy of appointing representatives to sit with the supreme council and the allied reparations commission.

Senators Lodge and Watson and Georgia, declared the proposal was an entering wedge for American participation in the league.

"The American people," said Senator Lodge, "have decided against that league. The president has declared he would not enter it."

Senator Underwood, Alabama, Democratic leader, replied immediately declaring that the senate had prevented American entrance into the league. He said this was settled by the administration policy of non-membership and was not involved in the Walsh amendment.

Senator Walsh argued that the league commission was considering general disarmament while under Borah's plan only naval disarmament would be under consideration.

If the jury which is serving in this week, murder trial fails to agree there is a good deal of reason for the suggestion: "What's the use of talking about law and evidence in such a case? It's only sentiment that counts."

The late Chief Justice White had evidently learned how to economize speech, whether writing or spoken. His will includes just fifty-one words and the document leaves no doubt as to the intended disposition of his estate.

Sixteen or more labor grafters have been indicted in Chicago. Now the next thing is to convict them and that quickly. If real punishment is meted out to a few men of this class, labor grafting will not be considered such a pleasant and profitable occupation.

It will be a great thing for this country when the day comes that the smoke from soft coal in Illinois is converted into oil. Prof. S. W. Parr at one time a member of the Illinois college faculty and now of the State University, declares that this great smoke waste can be eliminated, thus saving an enormous amount of fuel and avoiding the annoyance and damage that come from the smoke.

Senator Johnson has proposed investigation of the Kentucky-West Virginia mining district feud which has resulted in such a flagrant loss of life. Generally speaking, there are too many investigations, with long months of testimony taking and findings which nobody reads. But this is an aggravated case and certainly facts warrant some kind of an investigation which will result in remedying the existing evils.

President Harding had a group of the biggest bankers of the country meet for conference with him. Now it is time for radicals to begin ranting about the league that the president has made with Wall street to the detriment of "the people." The fact is, that the president is trying to work out a financial policy with reference to foreign trade and credits which will help out with the business situation in the U. S.

The administration is justifying the belief that no stone will be left unturned in the effort to bring Slacker Bergdoll to justice and to put an end to his bold defiance. Now the government has confiscated his estate, said to be worth $800,000, and if he is an alien he has no right to it. If he returns to claim it the sentence will be imposed. When Bergdoll hears about this situation he will have lost some of that swaggering and defiant air.

A high school education may not train for the job, but it will train in accuracy and efficiency which, in themselves, are means to an end.

THE TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM

(Contributed)

"Hello, Bill! Have you voted yet?"

"No, I'm on my way to the polls now."

"Well, don't forget to vote for the Tuberculosis Tax Measure."

"Wait a minute. Joe you're not voting for that measure, are you? Don't you know that we voted the anti-tuberculosis cause a big yearly tax only a few years ago? It's a good cause and I was for it then but I think they ought to be satisfied with the tax we're already voting. I'm going to vote against it. They ought not to be asking for an extra tax."

"Bill, you'll pardon me I'm sure, but I don't think you've got this extra tax idea altogether straight in your mind. You seem to think that we are being asked to vote some more of our money to this good cause. That isn't the idea at all. You remember, back in 1916, you were for this tax, don't you? Well, isn't the cause just as good now, and the need just as great?"

"Sure it is! I believe in doing all we can to wipe out the White Plague in Morgan county, but I don't see why they can't do it with the money they get every year from the tax we have already voted them. I admit that prices are high and that it cost a lot to buy Oak Lawn and to put the sanatorium in first class condition, but I don't see why, if they are careful now, they can't run the institution on the money they get every year from the tax we have already voted. That's what I get for me."

"Say, Bill, you've got the wrong idea about this tax. Sure, prices are high and expenses have gone up. That's just the reason the sanatorium isn't getting one penny of the money we voted it in 1916. Don't you know that the county hasn't the right to tax itself beyond a certain rate, and that because of high prices and the necessary running expenses, it takes every cent of our taxes to meet the general expenses of the county, so that the vote to allow the county commissioners to spend more than 2 mills on the tuberculosis sanatorium, conditions are now such that after the general county expenses are taken care of there isn't any money left for the sanatorium?"

"Listen, Joe, I didn't understand it that way. I thought these people were not satisfied with the tax we had voted them and now want us to tax ourselves an ADDITIONAL tax to the one we're already paying them. Why do they call it an ADDITIONAL tax?"

"Well, Bill, that's because it's a tax for this special purpose in addition to the general county tax from which we voted that the tuberculosis sanatorium should have a certain sum each year, but from which it is now not getting a penny because, after the general county expenses are taken care of there isn't anything left for the sanatorium. In other words, Bill, we voted to give them money each year and now find that without this additional tax we haven't any money to give them. Legally we can't collect any more without this special vote. This is a 'referendum' vote to enable the people to say that they meant what they voted in 1916. In other words, that the sanatorium is to have the money which in 1916 we voted that it should have."

"Well, Joe, I didn't understand the situation before. I see it now. Why, if this was a good cause in 1916 it sure is now, and if the people aren't getting what they voted themselves then, they had better go to the polls and vote it for themselves now. This new law gives them the chance. So long! I must hurry and get to the polls before they close so that I can vote FOR the Sanatorium proposition."

THE PICK OF THE PICTURES

The Lady Jermyn, a schooner carrying a cargo of gold and several hundred passengers, was destroyed by an explosion of gun-powder on the high seas. The men who staged the deed planned that all should perish. They wanted no evidence against them and their theft of the gold. One man lived. For days he drifted on a hatchway, part of the wreckage of the Lady Jermyn. He matched his wits against the plotters, thus making one of the most wonderful stories ever told on the screen.

FOUR DOCTORS GAVE HER UP

Through a Neighbor's Advice This Woman Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kenosha, Wis.—"I suffered with a female trouble and at last was in bed for six weeks with what the doctors called inflammation of the bowels. Four of them said I could not live. A neighbor told me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the start. When the doctor came I told him what I had taken and he said 'Throw my medicine away and keep on with the Pinkham medicine.' I did and it cured me. If more women would take your medicine they would not suffer so. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to lots of people and they have been satisfied."—Mrs. MARY RHAPSTOCK, 2704 Wisconsin St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

When a woman is beset with such symptoms as irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, a displacement, backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or the "blues" she should treat the cause of such conditions by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Body odors and odors of perspiration are annoying to all. There is no way to prevent them but there are ways to retard them. We sell all of the popular perspiration deodorants in liquid, powder and paste form. They neutralize perspiration odors. They do not clog up the pores and stop healthy circulation. They do not harm the skin or soil the clothes. They are not perfumes because they have no odors in themselves. They are the proper and safe perspiration deodorants, so simple to use, so small in cost, so beneficial in result that every lady should harken to our advice to use them and of course for choice of assortments, you will naturally buy them here.

DR. FRANK JAYNES POINTS OUT WAY TO GRADUATING CLASS

Gives the Members Four Cardinal Principles
That Go to Achieve Success in Life Work
—Says That Labor, Perspective Vision and Faith are the Most Essential Things

"Labor, Perspective, Vision and Faith are the talismanic words which open the gates to achievement," said Dr. Frank E. Jaynes of the University of Chicago, in his address to the graduating class of the Jacksonville high school Friday evening.

The exercises were held in the auditorium of the Newton Bate-man Memorial building. This was the first time that the new building had been used and the auditorium was filled to capacity.

Members of the class filed in and took their places on the stage after which Dr. Frank E. Jaynes, speaker of the evening; Julian P. Lippincott, president of the board of education; H. Ambrose Perrin, superintendent of schools, and B. F. Shafer, principal of the high school, took their places.

Rev. Thomas Smith made the invocation, following which the girls' quartet gave two numbers.

Superintendent Perrin introduced as the commencement speaker, Dr. Frank E. Jaynes, of Chicago University. His subject was "Doors of Dominion." Before taking up his lecture Dr. Jaynes made some comparisons of the amount of money the American public spends, 22 billions for luxuries; 750 millions for necessities; 800 millions for cigarettes. He then went on to say that this money would build 22,000 universities each endowed with one million dollars. The speaker declared that just as the individual was dependent on three fundamentals, shelter, food and water, our civilization is dependent on three things: laws, religion and education.

Boys Do Not Attend School

He lamented the fact that so many of the boys do not go on thru the school system and finish the high school course, telling of 150 high school commencement addresses he has made in the past few years and only two of the number made to classes in which the boys outnumbered the girls.

In taking up his subject Dr. Jaynes told a folk lore story about the young son of an old King who was stolen and taken into a far country where he was raised by some poor peasants. When he grew to manhood an old man came to him as he was working in a field, and told him that he was a Prince and that his father was growing old and that he should go home and claim his birthright; but to get there he would have to pass thru four great walls, each of which had a magnificent bronze gate that would open only when a talismanic word was spoken.

The young prince hesitated, but the old man said he would go with him and would give him the proper word at each gate. So they left the peasants and started on their way. At each gate the old man gave the prince the correct word and they passed on thru finally arriving at the birthplace of the prince where he was received by a band of knights and ladies and became King.

The Dignity of Labor.

Dr. Jaynes said that he was to play the part of the old man and would give the four talismanic words, the first of which was, "Labor." "To reach the land of achievement we must recognize the dignity of labor. The great trouble with us is that we do not take hold of our tasks, we touch them with our finger tips. Responsibilities gravitate to the people who are able to bear them, and therefore the more one

STILL NO VERDICT IN DUNCAN CASE

INDICATIONS POINT TO JURY
DISAGREEMENT

Instructions Given by Judge Jones Just Before Noon Friday — Defense Made Appeal for Leniency—State's Attorney in Closing Argument Picked Out Numerous Weak Spots in Defendant's Story.

The jury which heard the evidence and argument in the case of Laura Duncan, charged with the murder of Harry Perry, Jr., received instructions from Judge Jones about 11:30 o'clock Friday morning. Immediately afterward the jurors retired to the jury room and at 3 o'clock this morning, when the Journal went to press, no agreement had been reached.

All thru the afternoon the court room was nearly filled with people who waited anxiously to learn the finding of the jury and to be present at the dramatic moment when the jurors should file into court before Judge Jones and present their findings. As the afternoon wore away and there were indications of a hung jury, the number of spectators grew less, but there were some who stayed on the job clear past midnight.

The evidence in the case was such that the attorneys for the defendant will probably be quite well satisfied if a hung jury is the result of the trial.

Judge Jones indicated yesterday afternoon that he will allow the jurors ample time and it is probable that he will not release the twelve until late today, if a finding is not made. Evidently the court feels that the evidence is clear enough to justify a verdict.

From the Defense Standpoint

When court convened yesterday morning argument for the defense was taken up by William N. Hairgrove, who spoke for about one hour. He told Mrs. Duncan's story of the visit of Perry to her home on that fateful night and sought to show that the evidence brought out supported her claim of self-defense. He maintained that the woman was attacked by an intoxicated man with an open knife in his hand and that she was justified in shooting to protect her own life. Discussing some discrepancies in the story of his client, Mr. Hairgrove maintained that the fact of evidence not fitting in perfectly in details was proof of truthfulness rather than untruthfulness. He alleged that the nerve-racking experience of long confinement in the jail was sufficient cause for certain contradictory statements made under cross examination.

Then Mr. Hairgrove said that it was not surprising that the testimony of Veda Duncan, an eleven year old child, should vary in some details from her story at the coroner's inquest. It was only natural, he said, that a child should be confused by such happenings in her home. He closed with an appeal to sympathy for the woman and her children, and sought to impress the jurors that the case has not been proven beyond a reasonable doubt to which the defendant is entitled.

Jealousy the Motive

State's Attorney Robinson in his closing argument did not mince words or terms and made a strong and forceful statement in favor of the conviction of the defendant. He reviewed in a careful way the testimony of the several witnesses and held up to scorn the story of Mrs. Duncan that she acted in self-defense, that she sincerely wanted Perry to stay away from her home and get out of her life. The facts were related to indicate the jealousy of the woman and her keen desire to keep on friendly terms with the man she insisted she did not want to cross her path.

The inaccuracies of her statements, the contradictory features of her story, were reviewed in a way in which there was none of the sentiment to which the attorneys for the defense had made such appeal. Mr. Robinson declared "If you are to try this case on sympathy and not on the law and the evidence, we might as well vacate the court house, destroy our law books and do away with the courts and officers of the law. This case is so clear that to my mind there is but one course left for you as jurors if you desire to mete out justice to this defendant and to uphold the laws of the land."

Perry a Sober Man

Then the state's attorney went on to review the testimony of material witnesses to show the cool and calculating spirit of the defendant, the intensity of her jealousy. He pointed to the evidence of reliable witnesses to prove that Perry was not under the influence of liquor the night of the tragedy and the further important fact that no open knife was found in the room, altho a closed knife was in the pocket of the dead man.

All the circumstantial evidence, the state's attorney said, tended to show jealousy as the motive for the pre-meditated crime. Mr. Robinson told of Mrs. Duncan's conversations with Perry, of her way she pursued him after he had declared her wish to be rid of him. In his final words he made a plea for the jurors to do away with sentiment and to decide the case in accordance with the law and the evidence.
